Long Agonizing Wait for Nation Comes to End

By WILLIAM TUCKER
United Press Staff Correspondent

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UP) — A mighty roar ended 15 seconds of silence last night and America's first satellite was on its way into space.

If it had been an agonizing wait for a nation which so long has thought of itself as first in science and technology, and it was a thrilling and fantastic thing to see the 76-foot rocket soar aloft with all of the hopes it carried.

Like a great white column the Jupiter-C stood in floodlights before it was launched. Plumes of vapor from the liquid oxygen inside trailed from it, and observers could see the tapering nose and the final-stage rocket at the top.

Rocket Rose Slowly

When the firing button was pushed, the Jupiter-C rose slowly, then picked up speed and headed straight up for a number of seconds before starting the slow turn to get on a course parallel with the ground. The first stage, a short-range Redstone missile, burned out some two minutes after launching and the other three stages coasted to the critical 300-mile altitude.

Once the third stage cluster of rockets burned out and fell away, the single WAC Sergeant rocket in the final stage gave one last kick to attain orbital speed, then flickered out and silently the Explorer took up its orbit.

It streaked over the Bahamas, across the southern tip of Africa, across the Pacific north of Australia and over the Hawaiian Islands — then finally back to the western edge of the waiting nation.

Ret'ns Over Florida
The satellite crossed the U.S. coastline somewhere between Los Angeles and San Diego, Calif., then headed over the Southwest and back across Florida, but further south this time than the launching site here.

The satellite took exactly 425 and one-half seconds to go into orbit after the first flame belched from beneath it on the ground. The precise launching time was set by the scientists here as 10:47 and 28.5 seconds.

Gen. John B. Medaris, chief of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency which developed the Jupiter-C, appeared at a news conference about two hours after launching with some dozen other members of the Army team which put up the Explorer, refused to give credit to any single person. He called the satellite project "a team effort."

Jailed for Selling Stolen Goods

TEXARKANA (UP) — Chief of Police Max Tackell said Wednesday two suspects were arrested as they tried to sell stolen shotgun shells, and their car was loaded with goods they admitted taking in Louisiana and Florida.

Tackell identified the men as Don Gilbert Jones, 28, and Carl James Campbell, 16, of Bartlesville, Okla. Police said they admitted entering four hunting lodges near New Orleans last week and a fishing board near Miami before that.

Moving Courthouse to Hope Took Time, Elections and Trials

By Mary Anita Laseter

Because the "wager" of Hempstead County's courthouse against Nevada County's courthouse was declared a tie in this week's March of Dimes Walkathon, the building will remain in their respective locations.

Such a simple solution has not always been the case of the Hempstead County Seat of Government. It took three elections — one, of which resulted in two court trials — before the county seat was moved to Hope.

The first of these elections was held in 1910, and the forces wishing to retain the county seat in Washington were successful. Washington had long been recognized as the center of history, culture, and tradition in Hempstead County. At one time during the Civil War it was even the temporary State Capitol.

With the building of railroads and the subsequent increase in Hope's population, there arose a natural desire to shift the center of the county government, though. The first attempt to do this in 1910 had failed, but a second try was made in 1911. The result that time? Hope won.

For about a year, a temporary courthouse was located in a warehouse where the Hope Auto Co. is today. There, quite a bit of activity took place, not the least of which was a suit contesting the 1911 election which had moved the courthouse to Hope.

Irregularities pertaining to certificates, poll books, and ballots were brought to light, but Hope won in the county trial. Washington appealed the case to the State Supreme Court and it reversed the decision of the lower court.

Many stories have been told about events connected with these two trials. One of these concerned the trial in the old warehouse where short partitions made it into a makeshift courthouse, jury room, and judge's chambers.

During a court recess the judge retired to his chambers, and a dishonorable person decided to see what he was doing. Climbing up a bench he looked over the partition, only to find the judge kneeling, only to find the judge kneeling.

Defectively he turned to his companions and said, "We've lost boys. He's praying."

Relocating the Hempstead County Seat was not voted on again until August, 1938. Not only was the "third time charmed," it was also honest and resulted in Hope's becoming the County Seat of Hempstead County. This year marks the 20th anniversary of that event.

Ike Back to His Golf in Georgia

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower flies to Augusta, Ga., today for a golfing weekend, his first since his November 23 mild stroke.

Mrs. Eisenhower was not expected to accompany him.

The White House said the President and the First Lady will take a mid-February holiday at Thomasville, Ga. They will stay at the plantation of former Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey, where they have spent several previous brief vacations.

Eisenhower will spend the weekend at his vacation home at the House at the Augusta National Golf Course. He was last there in November, shortly before his stroke on Nov. 23.

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Wayne Upton, a Little Rock attorney, was elected president Thursday night of the Little Rock school board, succeeding Dr. William G. Cooper, Jr.

Cooper was named vice president, and Harold J. Engstrom, Jr., an attorney, was named secretary. Upton, a relative newcomer to the board, had been serving as secretary.

Dr. Cooper had been president of the board for five terms, and asked that he not be re-elected to a sixth.

HONOLULU (UP) — A public relations man for Pan-American Airways walked into the United Press bureau Thursday night with an announcement that his company will offer lowest-cost insurance to passengers against bad weather during their Hawaiian visits. He was wearing a rain coat.

Youth Admits to Murdering 11 Persons

GERING, Neb. (UP) — Mass killer Charles Starkweather has admitted murdering 11 persons in two states because of a "hatred that built up in me," authorities said today.

"Since I was a child I wanted to be an outlaw, but I didn't want it to go this far," the 19-year-old Lincoln, Neb., sharpshooter told authorities.

Sheriff Merle Karnopp of Lincoln said Starkweather made the statements Thursday night during their trip by car from Douglas, Wyo., to Gering.

Earlier, Wyoming officials surrendered jurisdiction over Starkweather and his 14-year-old sweetheart, Caril Fugate, for prosecution in Nebraska.

Starkweather, a stocky, red-haired gunman, was captured Wednesday night in a bullet-punctuated police chase near Douglas, shortly after he had killed his 11th victim, a traveling salesman.

Lincoln officials wasted no time extraditing Starkweather and Caril to Nebraska where Starkweather faces the death penalty on a murder charge. Caril also has been charged with murder, but claims she was Starkweather's terrified hostage on his murder spree.

"I want to go back to Nebraska because Wyoming has a gas chamber and I don't like the smell of gas," Starkweather was quoted as saying by the sheriff.

"I suppose they'll have the chair ready for me."

Soviets Set to Launch 3rd Sputnik

WASHINGTON (UP) — Russia today was reported preparing to launch a third earth satellite — possibly weighing a ton.

The reports of a pending Sputnik III launching have been received here and in other world capitals for several days.

Informed sources said the reports have it that Sputnik III would be "a little larger" than Russia's second dog-carrying satellite which weighed about a half ton. One source said the new Red satellite might weigh as much as a ton, 2,000 pounds.

These officials said they would not be surprised if the reports were true in light of past indications that Russia could launch satellites at a rate of about one a month.

But they also did not rule out the possibility that Russia started the reports circulating in hopes of throwing the free world off stride and increasing Western anxiety over Russia's space triumphs.

Sputnik III is long overdue according to the one-month timetable. Russia's second satellite, its passenger long since dead, has been circling the earth since Nov. 3. Sputnik I launched the space age Oct. 4 and burned out Jan. 1.

Smith Named L. R. Police Chief

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Eugene G. (Gene) Smith was appointed Chief of Police by the City Civil Service Commission Thursday over protests of the segregationist Mothers' League of Central High at the city hall.

Smith, 44, had been acting chief since retirement of Chief Marvin H. Rous last November.

Smith, Capt. L. V. Witherspoon and Capt. W. H. (Billy) Mack took civil service examinations for the job Jan. 13. Since the examinations were given, several men had been interviewed and the selection of Smith.

Stephens Tells of Gas Company Industry Drive

W. R. Stephens, one of America's master salesmen, brought the story of a resurgent gas industry to the largest crowd ever to attend Hope Chamber of Commerce's annual membership dinner, in the high school cafeteria Friday night.

The legend about Mr. Stephens is that he was a farm boy from Frattville, Grant county, who got his start selling belt-buckles, saved his money, borrowed some more right here in Hope — and built up a fortune in the security business, clinched by his greatest coup, the purchase of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., of which he is president and chairman of the board.

But it's no legend. It's the truth. The new president of Hope Chamber of Commerce, Jack Lowe, last night showed the crowd a belt-buckle he said he bought from Mr. Stephens back in 1929 — and the gas executive cracked back, "It was No. 8."

Lloyd Spencer introduced Mr. Stephens as "the most successful man in America," and detailed his rise to a national figure.

Mr. Stephens told his audience at the outset that he took America's free enterprise system to be just what it says it is — a system under which no man has to apologize for making an honest profit. He discussed first the history of Arkansas Louisiana Gas, then his purchase of it, and finally the diversified industrialization program which the company now has under way in Arkansas.

"The original gas company was organized in 1909," Mr. Stephens said. "I bought it when the holding company, Cities Service, was under a court order to get rid of it — and brought its ownership back home to Arkansas in 1955. Today one-fourth of Arkansas Louisiana's stock is owned by Arkansas people."

"We have improved the company and its earning power not by rate increases but by rigid economies, an efficient operation, and expansion of the uses for natural gas. Our economies totaled $2.6 million a year, and today Arkansas Louisiana is being operated more cheaply per customer than any utility in the nation except the Fort Smith Gas Co."

Industrial Program

"You can understand that it is to our interest to keep gas as cheap as we can and build up our market. We have a long drought each summer when we have to 'dump' unsold gas to the pipelines because we have it contracted for. It is to our interest to build up demand so the slack season can be eliminated and our system profitably employed the year 'round."

"We are now engaged in constructing new industries which will more fully use our gas-transmission system."

"A subsidiary company is building at Foreman, Ark., a $12-million cement plant which we expect will do an annual gross business of $64-million, and employ 300 persons."

"At Magnolia we have under construction a $3-million chemical plant."

"Arkansas Louisiana in the last year bought the Servel air-conditioning business and is greatly expanding that facility — which of course uses gas. The Servel plant will reach capacity production in the next six months and we'll have to build an additional plant — and you can guess that we'll put it in Arkansas."

"And we have started the manufacture of gas street-lights."

"We're going to build industries up and down our lines, and we're going to try to keep the rates low so the job will be easier, Arkansas has one of the cheapest gas rates in the nation."

"I believe in what I'm doing — I'm a natural gas man, and I'm working at the job."

"The last 10 people whom I checked on personally, and who took with electricity — had stomach ulcers."

Local Industries

Ray Turner, retiring president of the Chamber of Commerce, paid tribute to Hope's existing 18 industries, pointing out that last year they spent $400,000 for buildings and equipment, and added 125 employees.

Jack Lowe, new president, introduced the officers and board for 1958.

Circuit Judge Lyle Brown was the banquet's toastmaster.

Dr. John McClanahan, pastor of First Baptist Church, delivered the invocation and benediction. Mayor George Frazier introduced out-of-town delegations from Arkadelphia, Prescott, Magnolia, Little Rock and Texarkana, and on the entertainment program Miss Carolyn Medders and Paul O'Neal sang a duet with Mrs. Florence Bryant at the piano.

Settlement of British Strike Announced

VANCOUVER, B.C. (UP) — Union and company negotiators announced they had reached agreement early today for settlement of the 12-week oil strike of 6,000 British Columbia pulp and paper workers. The agreement still requires union membership approval.

Terms of the agreement were not immediately announced.

The United Pulp and Sulphate Workers Union and the Paper Makers Union ordered the walk-out in November to back up demands for a 12 per cent wage increase. The six companies involved offered 7 1/2 per cent.

The agreement was reached in seven days of negotiations.

A union spokesman said the workers would not return to their jobs unless they approved the settlement in voting late today. He said the outcome of the vote would be known probably by Monday.

The strike idled mills producing a major share of Canada's newsprint output.

But it did not create a newsprint shortage. The six companies, producers of 14 per cent of the world's newsprint supply, had heavy reserve stocks.

The walkout at nine major mills cost the companies an estimated 25 million dollars in lost production and the workers an estimated five million dollars in lost wages. It also closed several other companies whose operations are tied closely to the paper mills and resulted in the layoff of several hundred railway workers because of decreased traffic.

Navy Says Tight Budget Is a Threat

By DAYTON MOORE

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Navy said today that its tight budget plus the Soviet submarine threat jeopardizes U.S. control of the seas.

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, said Russia's growing sea power confronts the West with "one of its greatest challenges."

Burke also told the House Armed Services Committee that budget restrictions have forced the Navy to make "drastic" cuts in some activities in order to find money for modern ships and weapons required to keep control of the seas in U.S. hands.

Burke appeared before the committee with Navy Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. who said this country should "have a great deal more" of its military strength "on and under the sea." The threat isn't solely from long-range Soviet missiles and H-bombs, Gates argued.

Approve Extra Funds

The missiles race with Russia was, however, getting priority attention from Congress.

The Senate Appropriations Committee voted $1,200,000,000 in extra cash to speed missile development and defenses.

The Senate is expected to pass the emergency bill — already passed by the House — early next week.

In a move to put a checkrein on Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy's authority over outer space projects, the Senate committee knocked out a provision of the bill which in effect would have authorized him to set up a special space agency in the Defense Department. But the committee left in a 10-million-dollar item he had asked for the agency.

It approved by Congress in its present form, the bill would let McElroy go ahead on military outer space projects. But it would leave for later decision the question of whether the Defense Department or a civilian agency would have overall control over outer space research and development.

Sea Control Is Vital

Burke told the House committee that because of budget limitations Navy manpower has been sharply reduced and the active fleet cut. He said spare parts are being used three times as fast as their replacement rate.

And he said one of the toughest decisions he ever made was to defer the start of another nuclear-powered aircraft carrier to make funds available for anti-submarine ships and aircraft.

Both Gates and Burke warned against putting so much emphasis on space warfare as to jeopardize ability to fight other kinds of wars.

Satellite Spins Around Earth at 19,000 mph

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

UNITED PRESS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — The United States got its first artificial moon up the Russian way — with military rocketry.

The success seemed to show that this country could have done it much earlier if it had tried this way.

The Army did it, nearly four months after the first Soviet satellite launch, with a four-stage Jupiter-C whose rocket engine had long since been thoroughly proof-tested.

The Russians also had used military rockets of proven capacity to fire their Sputniks I and II into orbit while this country lost time trying to perfect a brand new launching rocket, the Navy's Vanguard, for purely scientific purposes.

Weather Delayed Vanguard
The successful Soviet launchings took place Oct. 4 and Nov. 3. The first U.S. attempt to fire a complete Vanguard, with a 6.4-inch baby moon in its nose, was made Dec. 6. The launcher blew up on the ground. A second scheduled test was frustrated last week by weather and mechanical troubles.

The Jupiter-C missile, a descendant of the German V-2 rocket of World War II, had been around a long time, but in 1955 it was "born" as high as 600 miles. It and the 15 Sergeant rockets which made up the moon-launcher's second, third, and fourth stages, had been proved time and again. All that needed to be done was to rig a scientific satellite for the Jupiter-C's nose.

In the case of both the Jupiter-C and Vanguard, the planned orbital height was 300 miles and the speed of revolution around the earth 18,000 miles an hour. The Jupiter satellite actually went into an orbit ranging from 230 to 2,000 miles above the earth. It hit 10,000 miles per hour.

New Moon A Cylinder
Sputnik I weighed 184 pounds and Sputnik II (the dog satellite) about 1,120 pounds. Their speed, too, was close to 18,000 miles an hour. Their peak altitudes ranged from about 570 miles for the first to about 1,000 for the second.

Jupiter-C's satellite weighs 30.3 pounds. Instead of being a sphere, like the Vanguard moons and Sputnik I, it is a cylinder like Sputnik II, though smaller. The Jupiter's fourth stage rocket and satellite are in one piece, a tube about 80 inches long and six inches in diameter.

In power the Army launcher was far greater than Vanguard but feeble compared with Sputnik II's. Vanguard's three stages were designed to muster less than 40,000 pounds of thrust.

The Jupiter-C's first stage alone developed 78,000 pounds. Estimates of the power behind Sputnik II have ranged from around 600,000 to more than one million pounds.

PINE BLUFF (UP) — The Junior Chamber of Commerce named Harvey McGeorge Thursday night as the outstanding young man of the year.

McGeorge is an executive of the Pine Bluff Sand and Gravel Co., and is not a member of the Jaycees.

Rockets Group Digs Into Chicago Union

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Rackets Committee dug into the history of a violence-stained Chicago union today for more data on William E. Maloney, president of the Operating Engineers Union.

Turning back the clock to the Capone era, the committee scheduled testimony on terrorism and violence as early as the unsolved 1933 slaying of Dennis B. Ziegler, an early leader in the fight against the long thrush of Engineers Local 160 in Chicago.

Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the committee wants information on "some of the violence that existed" in the Chicago local during the 20-year trusteeship which paralleled "William E. Maloney's rise to power in the Operating Engineers."

Kennedy said Maloney, the local's trustee before assuming the international presidency, has long dominated its activities. He said another Chicago local of the union, No. 399, also would figure in today's testimony.

Also scheduled, said Kennedy, is more testimony on reported "favored treatment" given by Local 10 to the big construction firm of S.A. Healy, the Chicago businessman who Thursday refused for a second time to give testimony. He claimed the protection of the Fifth Amendment.

In the absence of Maloney, who has reported himself ill, the committee Thursday used its own investigators as witnesses to charges Maloney reported only $389,578.10 of $742,228.20 in receipts from union strikes on his 1950-51 income taxes.

The testimony indicated the unreported sums were mostly expenses paid him by the international union and Local 160 to finance European travel, club memberships, race-track activities and other forms of good living.

Today was the last scheduled day of hearings on the big construction union for the present.

DOROTHY DIX

Put Gossipy Friend on a Chunk of Ice

Dear Dorothy Dix: My problem concerns a boy I like, but have never dated, and a girl friend, whom I suspect of being slightly less than true-blue. Her boy friend (the boy I like) is also a member. She claims she has heard, via the grapevine that Ricky is interested in me. However, I know she isn't trustworthy, so don't know how much of her gossip to believe. Now to the problem: I'd like to invite Ricky to a class dance but am a little afraid to risk it. Suppose my girl friend is lying and Ricky turns me down?

Dear Dix: So suppose he does? Will you be any worse off than you are now? Proceed with the invitation as you would have if your loose-tongued girl friend had never uttered a word. When you know, as you say, that the girl isn't to be trusted, why put any confidence at all in what she says? Why, in fact, keep a girl of her calibre on your friendship list?

Dear Dorothy Dix: My fiancé is a wonderful boy but terribly hot-tempered. He flies into a rage at anything or nothing. He gets over it quickly, but soon is at it again. Of course I always forgive him. Is there any point in staying cross with him?

Dear Dix: You have quite a future in store forgiving him every time he flies off the handle. A high tempered person is very difficult to live with. A girl who undertakes marriage with one is either desperately in love or lacking in ordinary common sense. A man who flies into a rage over nothing isn't even mature enough to qualify as a husband. Cure him or can him!

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm desperately in love with a girl who is halfway through college. I began working after high school, am now 25, and know my salary won't support us. Should I let my girl friend finish college? She will then have a profession and on two incomes I know we'd make it. Right now we're just two kids in love.

Dear Noel: At 25, Noel, you're no kid. Unless, and until, you can see your way clear to supporting a family out of your own funds, stay out of the marriage market. Have you told the girl about your plans for her future? I doubt if they will be well taken!

Dear Dorothy Dix: How can I be sure my boy friend loves me? DIXIE
The answer, I could make a mint. However, nobody has been able to devise a test for love. Maybe that's why women were given intuition. It's as good a tester as anything.

The scientific name for the state bird of New Mexico, the Road Runner, is geococcyx. It means "drags its tail on the ground."

Reveals Cause of Crash of British Plane

LONDON (UP)—Investigators said today the crash of a British Britannia prop-jet airliner last November may have been caused by a runaway "robot" pilot which took control from the plane's human crew.

The crash killed 15 persons and caused all Britannias to be grounded for a brief period. Investigators trying to determine the cause of the crash said the runaway robot possibility was raised by reports of a second Britannia crew which had the same trouble.

The first crash occurred as the long-range airliner came in for a landing near Bristol, England. All the crew, along with technicians who had been checking to plane's performance, were killed.

Aviation sources said to second Britannia was flying at 3,000 feet over Britain when it ran into trouble with the "demon robot."

The automatic pilot, which normally is kept turned off except when needed on long flights, suddenly started operating. Because it had not been adjusted to steer a specific course, it sent the big plane into steep dives and climbs.

The flight engineer cut off power to the automatic pilot just in time and the human pilots regained control.

Nixon, Ike in Pep Talks to GOP Planners

WASHINGTON (UP)—Republican organization leaders hear off-the-record pep talks by President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon today at another GOP planning session for the 1958 campaign to regain control of Congress.

The President was scheduled to appear at a breakfast session of the Republican National Committee. Nixon speaks at a luncheon meeting.

Cabinet members were asked to submit to questioning at a closed morning session and other party leaders were to be heard this afternoon about problems of the 1958 campaign.

The GOP must show a net gain of at least one Senate seat and 21 House seats to regain control of Congress in the Nov. 4 election. All 435 House seats and 93 of the 98 Senate seats will be at stake.

A majority in Congress since the 1954 elections, the Republicans still rate as underdogs this year.

After a GOP executive committee meeting Thursday, however, Republican National Chairman Meade A. McCormack said party morale has risen in the past few weeks.

He credited the President's State of the Union message to Congress and the "Salute to Eisenhower" dinner rallies last week.

Prescott News

Banquet For Retired Postal Employees
A banquet was given by the active employees of the Prescott Post Office at the Broadway Hotel Tuesday night in honor of the recently retired employees. J. Bill Bolton was toastmaster of the event.

After a tempting plate was served, talks were made by the active and inactive members of the force. The active members presented their problems of the future. The storm cloud to rise and the lightning to flash the vapor to fall, run down the hill and to pass under the bridge.

The retired employees emphasized the cold winters and the hot summers that have passed over their heads and about the water that has passed under the bridge. The group consisted of employees and their wives.

Those recently retired were John N. Hubbard, Arthur Turner, Sidney E. Gormby, rural carriers; Wendell P. Prescott, fireman-laborer; W. E. Hirst, postmaster, with 46 years service.

Mrs. Wren Scott entertained with a canasta party at her home on Tuesday afternoon. Arrangements of spring flowers and potted plants gave a colorful note to the party rooms.

High score honors were won by Mrs. Jim Yarny.

A salad and dessert course was served to guests Mrs. A. W. Hudson, Mrs. B. Hestler, Mrs. W. P. Cummings, Mrs. Clyde Marsh, Mrs. T. E. Logan, Mrs. J. V. Fore, Mrs. Imogene and Mrs. Yancy.

Dr. Wesley Davis Rotary Speaker
Fred Rymer had charge of the program at the Rotary Club Tuesday at the Broadway Hotel. Mr. Rymer introduced Rev. Alfred DeBlack who in turn introduced Dr. Wesley Davis, instructor in Southern Methodist University, Dallas.

Dr. Davis spoke on what democracy has meant, the present and future of the world. He made his points from many Bible citations and ancient and modern history. He pointed out how in the past very small events could lead to war and how history could be repeated at the present time. His talk was very interesting and informative. It was well received by the entire membership.

John Bruner and Robert Bruner of Markham, Ark. Geo. Peck and Fred Ellis of Hope were visiting Rotarians.

Other guests included Asley Dewdney, Rev. Alfred DeBlack, Dr. Wesley Davis, H. D. ## Rock Hudson Named 'Star Of Year' by Theater Owners

Rock Hudson, starring currently with Robert Stack and Dorothy Malone with Jack Carson in Universal-International's "The Tarnished Angels," was chosen as winner of the coveted Star of the Year award by the Theater Owners of America.

Hudson's selection marked the first time the TOA picked for its highest tribute a star who was developed by a motion picture studio as a part of a talent development program. Previous winners were Danny Kaye, James Stewart and William Holden. TOA had consistently urged studios to develop new stars and its selection of Hudson, a product of Universal-International's star-building program, emphasized this vital industry effort.

That improvement alone represented a considerable advancement since last year. Ohl was an
All Conference player and he left the net on 42 per cent of his field
goal attempts.

This year he's connecting at the same clip for an Illinois team which is close to the Big Ten basement and overall he's a far better player than he was for a higher ranking club a year ago.

"I'm doing more rebounding, because we haven't got a big man," Ohl explained. "When we had the big guy, I usually played back.
Now we all have to get in and fight for the ball. It costs us some fast break baskets once in a while, but what else can we do?"

With or without the fast break, Ohl has been doing his share toward keeping the Illini within range as a threat for the Big Ten crown. Last year he wound up fourth among the Big Ten's

cussing as you plan your program
for the remainder of the year.

February is Founder's Month.
As you plan for this event, it is well to consider its purpose. Since its beginning the PTA Organization has always been and always will be an instrument for effective cooperative action, filling up tangible benefits for families and communities. The founders day gift is divided equally between both State and National Congress.

The Arkansas PTA Congress will meet March 7-8, 1958 at Drew
High School in Monticello. The local as well as the district PTA
units should be putting forth sin-cerous efforts to make the business and social affairs interesting, informative and relaxing.

Join the March of Dimes, contribute generously. Help those who cannot pay for full cost of care.
The charges for the Arkansas
State Congress are: Lodging $1.00 per night; breakfast 50¢ or 65¢ dinner 70¢ or 75¢ cents. The lower priced meals will not have a beverage served with them.

The National PTA Congress will meet June 15-16 and 17, 1958 at
A. M. and N. College, Pine Bluff.
You are urged as a member to attend.

Combes Thinks Illinois' Ohl Is Greatest

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (UP) — Twenty years ago, Harry Combes was the leading scorer on the Illinois basketball team for two straight seasons.

So his opinion today as coach of the fighting Illini that Don Ohl is the greatest jump shooter in Illinois history should carry some weight.

"As a shooter," Combes said,
"Ohl rates with the best I've had.
As a jump shooter, he is the best in Illinois history. I don't believe he's quite as good defensively in Illinois history. I don't believe he's quite as good offensively as some guards I've had, but as an all around player, he's as good as any I've had at Illinois."

Combes' opinion lifted Ohl into top rank in any examination of recent Big Ten players. For among the guards he has tutored were such standouts as Rod Fletcher, Don Sundberg, Jim Bredar and Paul Judson.

"Don has made up his mind to be a great one this season," Combes said. "He's working hardly to get into position for his shots, and he's playing better defense and doing better off the boards than he did in his first two seasons."

That improvement alone represented a considerable advancement since last year. Ohl was an
All Conference player and he left
the net on 42 per cent of his field
goal attempts.

This year he's connecting at the

cussing as you plan your program
for the remainder of the year.

February is Founder's Month.
As you plan for this event, it is well to consider its purpose. Since
its beginning the PTA Organization has always been and always
will be an instrument for effective
cooperative action, filling up tangible benefits for families and communities. The founders day
gift is divided equally between
both State and National Congress.

The Arkansas PTA Congress will meet March 7-8, 1958 at Drew
High School in Monticello. The local as well as the district PTA
units should be putting forth sin-
cerous efforts to make the business
and social affairs interesting, informative and relaxing.

Join the March of Dimes, contribute generously. Help those who cannot pay for full cost of care.
The charges for the Arkansas
State Congress are: Lodging $1.00
per night; breakfast 50¢ or 65¢
dinner 70¢ or 75¢ cents. The lower
priced meals will not have a beverage served with them.

The National PTA Congress will meet June 15-16 and 17, 1958 at
A. M. and N. College, Pine Bluff.
You are urged as a member to
attend.

A home to Local PTA Units
Now we have come to the halfway mark, there is still time to rework your program. It is worthwhile to take inventory always.

Have we started and closed on time? Has each program enough time for a healthy PTA? Have you stimulated committee chairmen into action? These questions and many others you will be dising area, chooses the muddy bottom of a flowing stream. From the spawning to the mature eel there is a space of four years. The baby lampreys spend this time in the mud. Knowing this, it was the job of the biologists first to concentrate the spawning grounds and then kill the little lampreys.

Concentration of the spawning grounds was effected by the use of electric wires. True, floods and mechanical failure keeps these from being 100% effective, but they do a pretty thorough job of checking migration despite physical difficulties.

THEY LABOR IN VAIN THAT BUILD IT

Pointing the way

That critical hour when every woman and every man must have counsel will surely come. How important then to have made a path to the Church and to your pastor. Our ministers are serious and their counsel good. They are as near as your telephone. The minister knows how to help women and men know themselves. But better still, he knows the way of access to God. There is no comfort like that which comes from Heaven. Why not visit your church and let your pastor show you the way, in the light and will and gracious assistance of God. Heaven is not far away for the seeking soul. Jesus said, "Seek and ye shall find, knock and it shall be opened unto you."

You In The Church...
The Church In You Form a combination for good. We should attend church regularly. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the CHURCH. Be faithful
Be a Churchman!
